KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Dr. Andrew Fitz-Gibbon

Dr. Andrew Fitz-Gibbon is a philosopher with academic interests in ethics, peace and social justice with an overarching emphasis on the philosophy of loving nonviolence. His expertise in the classroom and his commitment to these ideals outside of it have set him apart from his peers.

A SUNY Distinguished Service Professor, Fitz-Gibbon bears a title reserved for individuals who have given sustained outstanding service to the campus, SUNY, the community, New York state or the nation.

Fitz-Gibbon is the widely recognized author or co-author of 16 books and numerous articles, chapters and reviews. He served as president of the Association of Concerned Philosophers for Peace, the leading professional organization in North America dedicated to the causes of war and prospects for peace.

A leader since he arrived on campus in 2004, Fitz-Gibbon designed and led the Summer Ethics Institute from 2006 to 2018 and has directed the Center for Ethics, Peace and Social Justice from its founding in 2007 until Fall 2020. A certified advanced senior Tai Chi instructor, he teaches regular Tai Chi classes for faculty members.

In addition to his academic work, Fitz-Gibbon is the abbot and co-founder, along with his wife, Jane Hall Fitz-Gibbon, of the Lindisfarne Community in Ithaca, N.Y., a small, ecumenical religious order. He has applied his commitment to service by caring for more than 100 foster children and educating foster parents and foster agency professionals.

Fitz-Gibbon has an M.Litt. in history, an M.A. in applied theology and a Ph.D. in social ethics from Newcastle University.
